Keterangan Program :

For two years, Taylor & Francis has recognized the well-written, high-quality content that authors, editors and all team members worked so hard to produce in 2019. The list of winners across the text type and digital product categories is a testimony to the curiosity that makes want to understand the world, and the contribution of the scholarship and research embodied in a content to that understanding.

Taylor & Francis pleased to announce that the book written by Dr. Mazlina Zaira Mohammad collaboration with the other international authors, "Construction Health and Safety in Developing Countries" has been Awarded a 2019 Taylor & Francis Outstanding Book and Digital Product Award in 2019 Outstanding Monograph Category, congratulations!
